ADR 0003: Define Message Contracts First

Status

Accepted for the POC.

Context

The backend, scripts, future Unreal client, and future adapters all need to agree on the shape of messages. Without that, each part can drift in a different direction.

Decision

Keep JSON Schemas and examples for actions, state, validation results, and session messages.

Consequences

Clients can build against fixtures, and tests can catch contract breaks early. If the schema changes later, compatibility has to be a deliberate choice.
