ADR 0005: Validation Means Rule Conformance, Not Cli

Status

Accepted for the POC.

Context

The word "validation" can sound stronger than it is. In this repo, it does not mean clinical truth, safe field practice, or official protocol.

Decision

Validation only means the action matched or did not match named POC rules. Messages and docs should avoid clinical or protocol-authority claims.

Consequences

The results are useful for software demos and tests. They are not certification, medical guidance, or real-world emergency guidance. Any future real-world use would need qualified domain review and independent validation.
